

Hospitality Staff

NORTEC Labour Hire has experienced, ready to start hospitality staff to assist with all your busy times, when you are short-staffed or just needing extra help. We save you the time and hassle by covering your insurance legalities and simply invoice you for the staffing time.

NORTEC Labour Hire can assist your business with extra staff when:

The usual employee is on leave

Where a position is vacant due to annual/sick leave or other absences.

The usual employee has left a position creating a vacancy

Where the permanent vacancy is underway for recruitment and selection, temporary staffing can assist with maintaining the position.

You experience an increased demand in general work requirements

Additional temporary staff can assist with peak periods in hospitality work, high tourism times and special events — adding extra hands to the job without the fuss.

You undergo probationary periods for new staff

Labour Hire staff are quite often suited to permanent positions that become available, and this is a flexible, no-obligation opportunity to observe these potential candidates in the work environment.

You are testing a need for additional permanent labour

Temporary staffing may allow you to ascertain viability of new positions in line with projected budgets.

And more!

NORTEC Labour Hire ensure our staff are work-ready and have:

- Responsible Service of Alcohol certificate (NSW / QLD)
- Responsible Service of Gaming (NSW / QLD)
- Experience in the delivery of exceptional food and beverage services

All of our workers will have been screened and reference-checked prior to commencement of work. Suitable candidates will be sourced in accordance with your description, and with the intent of carrying out that work.
